

fpa 70th Anniversary

The British Journal of Family Planning congratulates the Family Planning Association on its 70th anniversary year and their forward vision to:

- Promote increased openness, positive attitudes and a more knowledgeable and responsible approach to sex
- Ensure all professionals providing treatment, care and support services are well informed about sexual health and have a high level of sexuality awareness
- Secure equity of access to high quality sexual health services
- Work towards all children and young people receiving high quality, appropriately timed education about sex and relationships.