Popping in for a quickie

Amos Tavwon

Another day, another pile of post dropped onto my desk by a smirking member of staff discharging her responsibility and adding to mine. No doubt I’m going to find the usual “Mr X invites you to visit his spanking new private rooms to see the marvellous futuristic therapies that poor old you on the NHS haven’t a chance in hell of ever providing, over a glass of wine that may have a fancy label but won’t be any of the good stuff from his personal cellar”, and of course the standard “Pharma X invites you to an evening meeting where much as we’d like to take you to a Michelin-rated restaurant and get you pissed on champagne we’ve actually struggled to get approval for the IUD-shaped pen that you’ll only be given once you’ve endured our ‘rep’ at your practice”. Imagine my delight then when from one envelope out pops a toy, game, puzzle, call it what you will. It grabbed my attention though. A plastic ring attached by a cord to a disc-shaped belt hook. Intrigued? I most certainly was. Pull the ring, let go and back against the belt hook it snaps. This is fun. Well it was for a minute or so. Must be some sort of executive stress management toy? That’ll come in handy. What else does it do? No sounds. No snaps. This is fun. Getting a bit bored now. Paperwork says it’s a CVR. Oh, silly me. Of course I should have known it’s a CVR, not to be confused with the Honda CRV, which you certainly can’t clip to a belt. Good Lord, that’s amazing, a compact video recorder and – I kid you not – the ring, which must be the tape, is only 2 inches in diameter, and the belt-clip recorder itself is only 1 inch in diameter. Incredible. Now, let’s see how I record something? Presumably to playback you just pull the ring like we’ve always done with talking dolls. Pull the string out of their back and off they go: “I love you”, “Prepare for action”, “Let’s do it”, “We have an emergency situation”. Not quite right. It says here the woman puts it inside the vagina and leaves it for 3 weeks. Fair enough, be prepared and all that. But surely that cord is going to chafe, isn’t it? It’s going to be like having a thong rubbing away on the private parts. Worse still, it could be like having a cheese wire down there. What if the ring springs back out or gets transferred onto the man’s penis – from the vagina and leaves it for 3 weeks. Fair enough, be prepared and all that. What if the ring springs back out or gets transferred onto the man’s penis – from the vaginal love balls in situ. She couldn’t decide which was the real thing is just the ring. OK, now I understand. So into the bin with it? No, I have just the perfect use for it (Figure 1). I wonder just how many keys it will take …
