

Erratum: 'Reforming abortion services in the UK: less hypocrisy, more acknowledgment of complexity'

Goldbeck-Wood S. Reforming abortion services in the UK: less hypocrisy, more acknowledgment of complexity J Fam Plann Reprod Health Care 2017;43:3–4.

An editorial in our January issue contained the erroneous statement that the Royal College of Nursing (RCN) supported the British Pregnancy Advisory Service's We Trust Women campaign - a campaign seeking abortion law reform in the UK. It was pointed out to us that RCN has no such policy. The Journal wishes to apologise unreservedly to the RCN for this error in a sensitive area of debate.
